Re: Ron Paul 2012

Dear Ms. Adams:

I would thank you for all of your hard work on behalf of the Ron Paul 2012 Presidential campaign and for your dedication to liberty.

Dr. Paul, John Tate, and the entire campaign staff know what incredible sacrifices have been made by each of our staff members and the grassroots during this historic effort.

Dr. Paul is encouraged to have the passionate support of so many who are committed to revitalizing our great Republic. He is in this race all the way to the Republican National Convention in Tampa.

As you know, the Campaign's Chief Strategist, Jesse Benton, reiterated the Campaign's commitment to run strong programs at State Conventions to win more delegates and alternate delegates to the National Convention. In his Paul Campaign Convention Strategy memo of May 15, Mr. Benton specifically mentioned the great state of Louisiana as one of several states that the Campaign is counting on to win and to increase its already substantial total of delegates.

Ron Paul's delegates will make a major impact at the National Convention by voting on party rules and adding solid liberty issues to the GOP Platform. We hope to have your continued support in this effort.

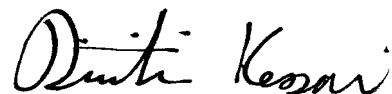

As a former staffer you know how important it is for the Campaign and its supporters, especially former staffers, to present a united front in these efforts. The Campaign's strategy is determined by its leadership and Campaign

Manager at their sole discretion. As a former staffer, you are ethically and legally obligated to take no action that would harm the Campaign's efforts even though you may disagree with the strategy being pursued by the Campaign. We hope to avoid any necessary legal action based on breaches of the Campaign's policies by which you agreed to abide when you were engaged by the Campaign—we hope you feel the same way.

Thus, it is in light of those ethical and legal obligations and in recognition of your hard work and service to the Campaign and the cause of Liberty that we ask you to refrain from taking any further action that would harm the Campaign's delegate attainment strategy, or otherwise jeopardizes the seating of Ron Paul supporters as part of the Louisiana delegation to the Republican National Convention in August.

We sincerely hope to have your continued support in this cause.

Sincerely,
